Roosevelt and Taft Fight Excites Interest in Washington—Thinks G. O. P. is Going to Scrap Heap.

(By VAN CLEVE.)

Washington, D. C., April 28.—The chief thought here for the past two weeks has been in connection with the sinking of the big steamship Titanic, the greatest maritime disaster in all history. Thousands here were more or less directly interested in the Titanic's unfortunate passengers. A number of well known residents of this city were on board, and the list of the lost includes several prominent characters, including Major Butt, the president's aid; Frank Millet, the great artist and secretary of the Art Academy in Rome. Scores of leading citizens of Philadelphia, New York and elsewhere who went down, were well known and had close friends here.

The disaster was so appalling that for several days its full import could not be realized. That sixteen hundred or more lives were sacrificed to the speed mania and the craze for luxury is the amazing admission. The Titanic was the last word in ship building. Its owners and its captain were convinced that it was unsinkable and practically indestructible, and some of them rode to a watery grave in that belief.

The Titanic was to break the world's record for speed and splendor, and it did until the end came. It had splendid restaurants, beautiful palm gardens, golf and tennis courts, swimming pools, and every convenience to court comfort and accommodate the liberal spenders, but it lacked the homely essentials to life when the crash came. The caution exercised on a less pretentious vessel would probably have avoided a serious collision with the ice berg, and, after it came, a sufficient supply of plain, ordinary lifeboats would have prevented the terrible loss of life.

But the space that might have been occupied by these simple articles of safety was given to senseless sumptuosity. There was an abundance of room. The Titanic was a tremendous floating palace. Its length was equal to three city blocks, and its height was eleven decks of stories. The momentum of this great ship when under full headway was almost immeasurable. A naval expert here estimates that it ploughed into that mass of ice, three miles in length and several hundred feet high, with a force equal to that of twenty-seven express trains combined.

The senate took prompt action and prevented the immediate return to England of the surviving officials, as had been planned, and has been prosecuting a vigorous investigation. It has already brought out many amazing facts that will no doubt aid in remedying defects for the future, but the lives that have been offered up in the mad race for commercial supremacy cannot be restored to the bodies that are swallowed up by the sea.

Another striking development of the recent past is the vicious scrimmage now going on between Mr. Taft and Col. Roosevelt. The way a president of the United States and a former president are tearing at each other's throats presents a truly edifying spectacle. Aside from the humiliation they feel as citizens of a great country thus dishonored, the fight is immensely pleasing to Democrats who, generally speaking, are communing in peace and brotherly love. The G. O. P. is indeed in a bad way. It has been a magnificent machine of wonderful execution and remarkable mechanism, but it is going to the scrap heap just as fast as its operators can take it. With William H. and Teddy both throwing rocks into it there won't be much worth saving when June 18 comes.

It surprises no one, because it is the natural outgrowth of the very unnatural situation developed by a man crazed with ambition and lust for power. It was predicted at the outset in these columns. The contest has assumed an interesting phase. Mr. Taft has so far an apparent advantage that cannot be overcome, but it is also apparent that Roosevelt will stop at nothing short of the defeat of the president. He has recently made considerable headway. With Illinois and Pennsylvania under his belt he has become a factor in the race. Last week was distinctly his, but the week just past has shown substantial gains for the president. The coming week will be important, as much depends on who gets Massachusetts. A desperate fight is going on there.

With the powerful backing of the steel and international harvester trusts, Col. Roosevelt is pawing up lots of dirt. Just why may be surmised from the official report filed under the corrupt practice act in New York, which shows that more than $50,000 was spent in New York City alone by the Roosevelt boosters "to get out the vote" in the recent primaries held there. If that is a fair sample of what is going on all over the country, there will be more prosperity abroad this summer than in many years. Of the more than $50,000 spent in New York City, $15,000 was contributed by Mr. Perkins of the harvester trust, and an equal amount by Frank Munsey, who is up to his ears in steel. Others of less note contributed the remainder.

Whatever may be the merits of their contention, these two men have made one thing plain. If half of what Roosevelt says of Taft is true, Mr. Taft is not fit to be president of the United States, and if half of what Taft says of Roosevelt is true, Roosevlt never was fit to be president. The publication this week of the correspondence showing that Roosevelt saved the harvester trust from prosecution during the time when he was president, and when everybody was clamoring for the enforcement of the anti-trust laws, was a body blow to the rough rider, and the only way Mr. Taft can save his face will be to file a suit as soon as possible. As a disgusted Republican said yesterday, "It is a case of dog fight bear. Go it dog, go it bear, neither is my man."

Albert Kuchs left Wednesday morning for St. Joseph, where he will join the Shriners' special train of that city to go to the meeting of the imperial council of the Shrine at Los Angeles, Cal., the second week in May. The special train from that city will leave Thursday evening over the Santa Fe, and the first official stop will be at Santa Fe, N. A short side trip will be made from Wililams, Ariz., into the grand canyon of Arizona, and the remainder of the trip will be by way of Riverside and Redlands to Los Angeles, where the train will arrive Sunday night. Mr. Kuchs expects to be gone about three weeks.

EXAMINATION MADE

TREATMENT OF CARL WRIGHT IS TO COMMENCE AT ONCE.

MONEY COMING IN FAST

Medicine Has Been Ordered and the Year and a Half Effort to Cure the Boy is to Begin This Week.

The money is coming fast for Carl Wright, and he will go to St. Francis hospital the last of this week or the first of next week for a year or eighteen months' treatment. An examination of his diseased hip was made Monday by Dr. Wm. Wallis, Jr., and Dr. Charles T. Bell. They found an anklosed joint with at least fifteen sinuses. The serum that will be used for treatment will be administered twice a week, and is intended to build up the boy's system so that these fistule places that give constant discharge will be healed.

The medicine has been ordered and will be here in a few days. Carl will not be confined to his bed all the time, as has been stated, and the doctors are not certain that they will use a weight to his foot. The operation on the bones of the hip will be performed after every indication of tuberculosis has been removed. Carl is in fine spirits over the response that is being made for his health and is eager to begin the long test. He is a brave little fellow and will need all the encouragement and cheer and everything that can be done to help him in the coming months.

The treatment in the case is not prescribed by Dr. Murphy of Chicago. Drs. Wallis and Bell have full charge of the case.

HIGH LIVE STOCK PRICES.

Present and Prospective Shortage of Supplies in the West.

Comparative shortage of live stock supplies, the result of last summer's drought which cut down feeding crops and sent corn and hay to high record prices, is reflected in the April market statistics.

Cattle are now selling $2 to $2.50 higher on the hundred pounds, hogs $2 higher and sheep $3 to $3.50 higher than a year ago.

Live stock men expect the shortage to be a factor in the market for some time to come.

Kansas City territory is affected more than any other part of the country. Receipts of hogs at the stock yards last month were 108,000 less than in April, 1911, a shortage of 35 per cent. St. Louis was short 20 per cent. Omaha, St. Joseph and Chicago had nearly normal supplies.

Cattle receipts fell short 10 per cent at Kansas City, but were larger elsewhere than a year ago. The sheep movement also exceeded last year's, but it is expected to be short from now until grass fat sheep from western ranges are ready.

Close of Gaynor School.

Miss Nell Hayworth closed a most successful term of school at Gaynor on April 26. About seventy-one scholars, patrons and friends gathered at the noon hour and gave Miss Hayworth a very pleasant surprise. Two long tables fairly groaned under their burden of good things to eat. After dinner was over the school children, with their teacher, had their pictures taken. After the house was called to order Brother William Hendry of the Christian church at Gaynor delivered a short but very appropriate talk along the aducational line. Miss Hayworth was indeed an excellent teacher, the pupils loved her dearly and all regret that she will not be with them next year, but wish her success and much happiness wherever she may be.

To Be Benefit for Carl Wright.

The play to be given by the Owls on Thursday evening at the Empire, entitled "Higbee of Harvard," will be given for the benefit of Carl Wright, so the Owls lodge decided Tuesday night. It was first thought that the proceeds would be divided between the lodge and the Carl Wright fund.

DROP THEM BOTH.

That is What Tip Callaway of Quitman Says of Both Taft and Roosevelt.

Tip Callaway of Quitman had a letter in the St. Joseph Gazette of today's issue, and it is as follows:

"I am a Republican and always have been from the time I cast my first vote and long before I was old enough to vote I was proud that my father and elder brothers were Republicans. I have always, until very recently, been proud and rejoiced in being called a Republican.

"But I am now for the first time in my life disgusted and feel humiliated when I see and read of men who have long been known and respected as representative Republicans now quarreling among themselves like a lot of schoolboys over a game of marbles and resorting to all kinds of trickery to get the advantage. 'Tis simply disgusting in the extreme, and I think it high time to put a stop to such ...ay. As to Taft or Roosevelt, the ...thing to do now, and in fact the ... thing that is left to do now if ...ope to elect a president this fall, ...be to throw both Taft and T. R. ...board, as neither of them can now ...elected. This is a dead sure fact. ...should unite in bringing to the front such men as ex-Governor Hughes of New York, now of the supreme bench, which course is the only way to save the G. O. P. from sure defeat.

"Even here in Quitman men who for years have been standing shoulder to shoulder for the honor and glory of the G. O. P. are now quarreling like silly fools, to the amusement of our political enemies. I say drop both the leaders of the quarreling factions, all go together and pick our man and elect him. TIP CALLAWAY,

"Quitman, Mo."

HOUSE HELPS GOOD ROADS

Highway Subsidy Amendment Fasses With Little Opposition.

WILL MEAN VAST IMPROVEMENT

Senate Expected to Accept Measure as Part of Postoffice Bill—No Kansans and But Two Missourians Oppose Bill.

Washington, May 1.—The house aided the national good roads movement by passing a provision in the postoffice appropriation bill which would grant a subsidy to all highways used in the rural free delivery mail service. These roads would be divided into three classes with subsiries of $25, 20 and $15 a mile.

The amendment, offered by Representative Shackleford of Missouri, was a compromise of 29 good roads bills introduced during the present session of congress.

Enemies of the measure estimated the cost the first year would be $16,000,000 to $18,000,000. Shackleford believes the tolls will not amount to more than $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 a year, at least for a time.

The measure provides that the federal government shall aid the good roads movement by paying a graduated toll for the use of state and county roads over which the rural mails are carried.

Kansans Favor Measure.

The members of the house from the Middle West with few exceptions supported the "good roads" proposition. None of the Kansans voted against it and the names of only two Missourians, Bartholdt and Catlin both of St. Louis were registered in opposition.

The senate will probably accept the provision as a part of the postoffice bill although it was said that there might be minor changes made in it.

One of the speeches in favor of the provision was made by Representative Rubey of Missouri, who declared that there was nothing that the national government could do that would stimulate the movement for better roads more than the aid which this provision offers. He said that even in 1914 a country wide improvement in roads would be noticeable if favorable action was taken by congress.

Rubey Answers Criticism.

He answered the criticism of Representative Fitzgerald of New York, who said that the measure was put before congress without due consideration, by saying that no bill in the history of congress had ever been given closer study than this one. Forty members, he said, had given close study to the proposition for many months and the bill which was attached to the postoffice appropriation bill, as an amendment, was the composite result of this consideration.

METHODIST CONFERENCE IS ON

Minneapolis, Minn., May 1.—Starting last night with a reception by the city to the delegates, the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church got down to business today. It was a remarkable gathering which attended the first business session in the Auditorium, for in addition to the delegates from this country, there were bishops and others from many parts of the earth. Fraternal delegates from numerous other churches also are here and will be received at various times.

For nearly four weeks the conference will be in session, and every day there will be noon meetings down town and evangelistic meetings in the afternoon at the Auditorium, in addition to the business meetings and the more formal events scheduled for the evenings. Among the latter are lectures by Dr. Cadman of Brooklyn, Bishop Quayle, Dr. Matt S. Hughes and William J. Bryan.

Last night the delegates were welcomed by Governor Eberhart, Rev. Andrew Gillies and Bishop Robert McIntyre. Bishop H. W. Warren and Hanford Crawford, chairman of the General Conference Commission, of St. Louis, responded.

Bishop Warren, in his address, gave a tentative outline of the program for the meeting. Beside the election of several new bishops and the heads of missionary and benevolent boards, the conference will deal with several important ecclesiastical problems.

DROP THEM BOTH.

That is What Tip Callaway of Quitman Says of Both Taft and Roosevelt.

Tip Callaway of Quitman had a letter in the St. Joseph Gazette of today's issue, and it is as follows:

"I am a Republican and always have been from the time I cast my first vote and long before I was old enough to vote I was proud that my father and elder brothers were Republicans. I have always, until very recently, been proud and rejoiced in being called a Republican.

"But I am now for the first time in my life disgusted and feel humiliated when I see and read of men who have long been known and respected as representative Republicans now quarreling among themselves like a lot of schoolboys over a game of marbles and resorting to all kinds of trickery to get the advantage. 'Tis simply disgusting in the extreme, and I think high time to put a stop to such play. As to Taft or Roosevelt, the thing to do now, and in fact the thing that is left to do now if hope to elect a president this fall, be to throw both Taft and T. R. board, as neither of them can now elected. This is a dead sure fact. should unite in bringing to the fro such men as ex-Governor Hughes of New York, now of the supreme bench, which course is the only way to save the G. O. P. from sure defeat.

"Even here in Quitman men who for years have been standing shoulder to shoulder for the honor and glory of the G. O. P. are now quarreling like silly fools, to the amusement of our political enemies. I say drop both the leaders of the quarreling factions, all go together and pick our man and elect him. TIP CALLAWAY,

CRAZE FOR LUXURY

TENNIS COURTS AND PALM GARDENS ON TITANIC—FEW BOATS.

(By VAN CLEVE.)

Washington, D. C., April 28.—The chief thought here for the past two weeks has been in connection with the sinking of the big steamship Titanic, the greatest maritime disaster in all history. Thousands here were more or less directly interested in the Titanic's unfortunate passengers. A number of well known residents of this city were on board, and the list of the lost includes several prominent characters, including Major Butt, the president's aid; Frank Millet, the great artist and secretary of the Art Academy in Rome. Scores of leading citizens of Philadelphia, New York and elsewhere who went down, were well known and had close friends here.

The disaster was so appalling that for several days its full import could not be realized. That sixteen hundred or more lives were sacrificed to the speed mania and the craze for luxury is the amazing admission. The Titanic was the last word in ship building. Its owners and its captain were convinced that it was unsinkable and practically indestructible, and some of them rode to a watery grave in that belief.

The Titanic was to break the world's record for speed and splendor, and it did until the end came. It had splendid restaurants, beautiful palm gardens, golf and tennis courts, swimming pools, and every convenience to court comfort and accommodate the liberal spenders, but it lacked the homely essentials to life when the crash came. The caution exercised on a less pretentious vessel would probably have avoided a serious collision with the ice berg, and, after it came, a sufficient supply of plain, ordinary lifeboats would have prevented the terrible loss of life.

But the space that might have been occupied by these simple articles of safety was given to senseless sumptuosity. There was an abundance of room. The Titanic was a tremendous floating palace. Its length was equal to three city blocks, and its height was eleven decks of stories. The momentum of this great ship when under full headway was almost immeasurable. A naval expert here estimates that it ploughed into that mass of ice, three miles in length and several hundred feet high, with a force equal to that of twenty-seven express trains combined.

The senate took prompt action and prevented the immediate return to England of the surviving officials, as had been planned, and has been prosecuting a vigorous investigation. It has already brought out many amazing facts that will no doubt aid in remedying defects for the future, but the lives that have been offered up in the mad race for commercial supremacy cannot be restored to the bodies that are swallowed up by the sea.

* * *

Another striking development of the recent past is the vicious scrimmage now going on between Mr. Taft and Col. Roosevelt. The way a president of the United States and a former president are tearing at each other's throats presents a truly edifying spectacle. Aside from the humiliation they feel as citizens of a great country thus dishonored, the fight is immensely pleasing to Democrats who, generally speaking, are communing in peace and brotherly love. The G. O. P. is indeed in a bad way. It has been a magnificent machine of wonderful execution and remarkable mechanism, but it is going to the scrap heap just as fast as its operators can take it. With William H. and Teddy both throwing rocks into it there won't be much worth saving when June 18 comes.

It surprises no one, because it is the natural outgrowth of the very unnatural situation developed by a man crazed with ambition and lust for power. It was predicted at the outset in these columns. The contest has assumed an interesting phase. Mr. Taft has so far an apparent advantage that cannot be overcome, but it is also apparent that Roosevelt will stop at nothing short of the defeat of the president. He has recently made considerable headway. With Illinois and Pennsylvania under his belt he has become a factor in the race. Last week was distinctly his, but the week just past has shown substantial gains for the president. The coming week will be important, as much depends on who gets Massachusetts. A desperate fight is going on there.

With the powerful backing of the steel and international harvester trusts, Col Roosevelt is pawing up lots of dirt. Just why may be surmised from the official report filed under the corrupt practice act in New York, which shows that more than $50,000 was spent in New York City alone by the Roosevelt boosters "to get out the vote" in the recent primaries held there. If that is a fair sample of what is going on all over the country, there will be more prosperity abroad this summer than in many years. Of the more than $50,000 spent in New York City, $15,000 was contributed by Mr. Perkins of the harvester trust, and an equal amount by Frank Munsey, who is up to his ears in steel. Others of less note contributed the remainder.

Whatever may be the merits of their contention, these two men have made one thing plain. If half of what Roosevelt says of Taft is true, Mr. Taft is not fit to be president of the United States, and if half of what Taft says of Roosevelt is true, Roosevlt never was fit to be president. The publication this week of the correspondence showing that Roosevelt saved the harvester trust from prosecution during the time when he was president, and when everybody was clamoring for the enforcement of the anti-trust laws, was a body blow to the rough rider, and the only way Mr. Taft can save his face will be to file a suit as soon as possible. As a disgusted Republican said yesterday, "It is a case of dog fight bear. Go it dog, go it bear, neither is my man."

TO GO TO CALIFORNIA.

Albert Kuchs Left Wednesday and Will Go With the St. Joseph Shriners to Los Angeles.

Albert Kuchs left Wednesday morning for St. Joseph, where he will join the Shriners' special train of that city to go to the meeting of the imperial council of the Shrine at Los Angeles, Cal., the second week in May. The special train from that city will leave Thursday evening over the Santa Fe, and the first official stop will be at Santa Fe, N. M., where the party will put in three hours, viewing points of interest in and about one of the oldest cities of the United States. A short side trip will be made from Williams, Ariz., into the grand canyon of Arizona, and the remainder of the trip will be by way of Riverside and Redlands to Los Angeles, where the train will arrive Sunday night. Mr. Kuchs expects to be gone about three weeks.

Mrs. Morrison at Home.

Mrs. J. B. Morrison arrived in Maryville Wednesday morning from Chicago, where the family has been spending the past fall and winter. She came back to look after business matters and will be here a few weeks. Dr. Morrison remained with Miss Mildred, who is taking voice culture and other musical study there. EXAMINATION MADE

TREATMENT OF CARL WRIGHT IS TO COMMENCE AT ONCE.

MONEY COMING IN FAST

Medicine Has Been Ordered and the Year and a Half Effort to Cure the Boy is to Begin This Week.

The money is coming fast for Carl Wright, and he will go to St. Francis hospital the last of this week or the first of next week for a year or eighteen months' treatment. An examination of his diseased hip was made Monday by Dr. Wm. Wallis, Jr., and Dr. Charles T. Bell. They found an anklosed joint with at least fifteen sinuses. The serum that will be used for treatment will be administered twice a week, and is intended to build up the boy's system so that these fistule places that give constant discharge will be healed.

The medicine has been ordered and will be here in a few days. Carl will not be confined to his bed all the time, as has been stated, and the doctors are not certain that they will use a weight to his foot. The operation on the bones of the hip will be performed after every indication of tuberculosis has been removed. Carl is in fine spirits over the response that is being made for his health and is eager to begin the long test. He is a brave little fellow and will need all the encouragement and cheer and everything that can be done to help him in the coming months.

The treatment in the case is not prescribed by Dr. Murphy of Chicago. Drs. Wallis and Bell have full charge of the case.

HIGH LIVE STOCK PRICES.

Present and Prospective Shortage of Supplies in the West.

Comparative shortage of live stock supplies, the result of last summer's drought which cut down feeding crops and sent corn and hay to high record prices, is reflected in the April market statistics.

Cattle are now selling $2 to $2.50 higher on the hundred pounds, hogs $2 higher and sheep $3 to $3.50 higher than a year ago.

Live stock men expect the shortage to be a factor in the market for some time to come.

Kansas City territory is affected more than any other part of the country. Receipts of hogs at the stock yards last month were 108,000 less than in April, 1911, a shortage of 35 per cent. St. Louis was short 20 per cent. Omaha, St. Joseph and Chicago had nearly normal supplies.

Cattle receipts fell short 10 per cent at Kansas City, but were larger elsewhere than a year ago. The sheep movement also exceeded last year's, but it is expected to be short from now until grass fat sheep from western ranges are ready.

Close of Gaynor School.

Miss Nell Hayworth closed a most successful term of school at Gaynor on April 26. About seventy-one scholars, patrons and friends gathered at the noon hour and gave Miss Hayworth a very pleasant surprise. Two long tables fairly groaned under their burden of good things to eat. After dinner was over the school children, with their teacher, had their pictures taken. After the house was called to order Brother William Hendry of the Christian church at Gaynor delivered a short but very appropriate talk along the educational line. Miss Hayworth was indeed an excellent teacher, the pupils loved her dearly and all regret that she will not be with them next year, but wish her success and much happiness wherever she may be.

To Be Benefit for Carl Wright.

The play to be given by the Owls on Thursday evening at the Empire, entitled "Higbee of Harvard," will be given for the benefit of Carl Wright, so the Owls lodge decided Tuesday night. It was first thought that the proceeds would be divided between the lodge and the Carl Wright fund.

DROP THEM BOTH.

That is What Tip Callaway of Quitman Says of Both Taft and Roosevelt.

Tip Callaway of Quitman had a letter in the St. Joseph Gazette of today's issue, and it is as follows:

"I am a Republican and always have been from the time I cast my first vote and long before I was old enough to vote I was proud that my father and elder brothers were Republicans. I have always, until very recently, been proud and rejoiced in being called a Republican.

"But I am now for the first time in my life disgusted and feel humiliated when I see and read of men who have long been known and respected as representative Republicans now quarreling among themselves like a lot of schoolboys over a game of marbles and resorting to all kinds of trickery to get the advantage. 'Tis simply disgusting in the extreme, and I think [it hi]gh time to put a stop to such [pl]ay. As to Taft or Roosevelt, the [only] thing to do now, and in fact the [only] thing that is left to do now if [we h]ope to elect a president this fall, [is to] be to throw both Taft and T. R. [over]board, as neither of them can now [be e]lected. This is a dead sure fact. [We] should unite in bringing to the fro[nt] such men as ex-Governor Hughes of New York, now of the supreme bench, which course is the only way to save the G. O. P. from sure defeat.

"Even here in Quitman men who for years have been standing shoulder to shoulder for the honor and glory of the G. O. P. are now quarreling like silly fools, to the amusement of our political enemies. I say drop both the leaders of the quarreling factions, all go together and pick our man and elect him. TIP CALLAWAY,

HOUSE HELPS GOOD ROADS

Highway Subsidy Amendment Fasses With Little Opposition.

Washington, May 1.—The house aided the national good roads movement by passing a provision in the postoffice appropriation bill which would grant a subsidy to all highways used in the rural free delivery mail service. These roads would be divided into three classes with subsiries of $25, 20 and $15 a mile.

The amendment, offered by Representative Shackleford of Missouri, was a compromise of 29 good roads bills introduced during the present session of congress.

Enemies of the measure estimated the cost the first year would be $16,000,000 to $18,000,000. Shackleford believes the tolls will not amount to more than $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 a year, at least for a time.

The measure provides that the federal government shall aid the good roads movement by paying a graduated toll for the use of state and county roads over which the rural mails are carried.

Kansans Favor Measure.

The members of the house from the Middle West with few exceptions supported the "good roads" proposition. None of the Kansans voted against it and the names of only two Missourians, Bartholdt and Catlin both of St. Louis were registered in opposition.

The senate will probably accept the provision as a part of the postoffice bill although it was said that there might be minor changes made in it.

One of the speeches in favor of the provision was made by Representative Rubey of Missouri, who declared that there was nothing that the national government could do that would stimulate the movement for better roads more than the aid which this provision offers. He said that even in 1914 a country wide improvement in roads would be noticeable if favorable action was taken by congress.

Rubey Answers Criticism.

He answered the criticism of Representative Fitzgerald of New York, who said that the measure was put before congress without due consideration, by saying that no bill in the history of congress had ever been given closer study than this one. Forty members, he said, had given close study to the proposition for many months and the bill which was attached to the postoffice appropriation bill, as an amendment, was the composite result of this consideration.

METHODIST CONFERENCE IS ON

Minneapolis, Minn., May 1.—Starting last night with a reception by the city to the delegates, the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church got down to business today. It was a remarkable gathering which attended the first business session in the Auditorium, for in addition to the delegates from this country, there were bishops and others from many parts of the earth. Fraternal delegates from numerous other churches also are here and will be received at various times.

For nearly four weeks the conference will be in session, and every day there will be noon meetings down town and evangelistic meetings in the afternoon at the Auditorium, in addition to the business meetings and the more formal events scheduled for the evenings. Among the latter are lectures by Dr. Cadman of Brooklyn, Bishop Quayle, Dr. Matt S. Hughes and William J. Bryan.

Last night the delegates were welcomed by Governor Eberhart, Rev. Andrew Gillies and Bishop Robert McIntyre. Bishop H. W. Warren and Hanford Crawford, chairman of the General Conference Commission, of St. Louis, responded.

Bishop Warren, in his address, gave a tentative outline of the program for the meeting. Beside the election of several new bishops and the heads of missionary and benevolent boards, the conference will deal with several important ecclesiastical problems.

Tip Callaway of Quitman had a letin the St. Joseph Gazette of toy's issue, and it is as follows:

"I am a Republican and always have en from the time I cast my first ote and long before I was old enough vote I was proud that my father nd elder brothers were Republicans. have always, until very recently, een proud and rejoiced in being alled a Republican.

"But I am now for the first time n my life disgusted and feel humiliated when I see and read of men who ave long been known and respected s representative Republicans now quarreling among themselves like a lot of schoolboys over a game of marbles and resorting to all kinds of trickery to get the advantage. 'Tis simply disgusting in the extreme, and I think high time to put a stop to such play. As to Taft or Roosevelt, the thing to do now, and in fact the thing that is left to do now if hope to elect a president this fall, be to throw both Taft and T. R. board, as neither of them can now elected. This is a dead sure fact. should unite in bringing to the front such men as ex-Governor Hughes of New York, now of the supreme bench, which course is the only way to save the G. O. P. from sure defeat.

"Even here in Quitman men who for years have been standing shoulder to shoulder for the honor and glory of the G. O. P. are now quarreling like silly fools, to the amusement of our political enemies. I say drop both the leaders of the quarreling factions, all go together and pick our man and elect him. TIP CALLAWAY.
